JOHN WORKMAN. JONES' PATENT COTTON GIN.

HIS Gin can be made double, or single. If made double, they reduce labor, and gin just double, the quantity of cotton over the single cylinder Gin, no other knd having been in use prevous to this patent; and whether single or double, they are found to improve the quality of the cotton, by more perfectly cleaning it. They can be made to contain from 20 to 160 saws in a stand, and whether small or large, one hand will be sufficient to attend them. The Gins have mechanical feeders and hoppers attached to them, which free the cotton from leaves, trash, dirt, &c. before it can reach the saws, and by the thorough hackling operation it receives from the feeders, which make two revolutions to one of the saws, it is almost in a half gined state, before it descends to the saw By a very simple arrangement of a screw to each set of gaates, on which the hoppers rest. and through which the teeth of the feeders pass, they can be made to feed slow or fast to suit the condition of the cotton at the time. When made double, the saws are placed on two sets of cylinders and turn upon each other in opposite directions, and are cleansed by two sets of brushes that have four revolutions to one of twe saw. The two cylinders can be detached so as to enable the planter to run one or both at pleasure, although embraced with feeders. &c. in one stand. The whole is put in operation with a drum and band, as in the ordinary Gin, and may be propelled by horse, steam, or water power. It may also be propelled by iron running gear.

The force required to work it, is about the same as that necessary to move an equal number of saws in the common Gin. This Gin has been put in operation in New Orleans for two or three weeks, and its success tested in the presence of a large number of planters, merchants and others, and Several gentlemen have been so kind as to give the Patentee their written opinion respecting the merits of the Gin. A number of others could be added, but the following are deemed sufficient:

Dr. A. Jones—Sir, In reply to your enquiry, what I think of your improved Cotton Gin, I have to say, that I saw it work on Saturday the 25th inst. and was very much pleased with its performance.
The mere fact of its self-feeding, seems to me to be a very valuable improvement; and besides, the quality of the cotton as it comes out of the process, appeared to me to be better and cleaner than from the common Gins in use, and that it saves considerably in labor. Respectfully, &c.

Dr. A. Jones—Dear Sir, in reply to your note, accompanied by a specimen of the cotton, ginned by your Patent Gin, I beg leave to observe, that it exhibits a decided improvement on the usual process of ginning; delivering the staple unimitated exhibits a decided improvement on the usual pro-cess of ginning; delivering the staple uninjured and free from hap or trash, clean and of good co-lor; thereby giving the article an additional value. These favorable impressions of the advantages of your Patent Gin, have been confirmed by subsequently witnessing it in operation. The utility of the double cylinders and saving of labor, will be readily perceived and properly appreciated by the intelligent planter. Feeling a deep interest in the success of all improvements tending to benefit the important steples of our country, I trust that yours will meet with the encouragement it justly merits.

Very respectfully, your ob t serv't,

H. F. M'KENNA. New Orleans, March 6, 1837. From Mr. G. Senior, a Machinist of New Orleans. Dr. A. Jones-Dear Sir, in answer to your inquiry of my opinion of your Patent Cotton Gin, I beg leave to state, that I was fifteen years engaged in the cotton factories of Manchester, England, and during four years of that time, I was foremen in the house of Messrs. Lewis, Williams and, and during four years of that time, I was foremen in the house of Messrs. Lewis, Williams & Co., and near five years spinner in the house of Messrs. Sandford & Greene. I have seen your Cotton Gin in operation, and have examined the cotton ginned by it, and pronounce it better cleansed, and the stapic less injured, than any cotton that ever came under my observation. It is completely ready for the breaker without the aid of the blower, and would, therefore, save the first process in manufacturing the article. I consider cotton cleansed by your Gin, would command from one to two cents on the pound more than the average crops brought into the Manchester market, and cleansed by common Gins. Yours, very resp'ly.

N. Orleans, March 9, GEORGE SENIOR.

Dr. Jones—Dear Sir, in answer to your inquiry respecting my aninion of your Patent Cotton Gin, I have to state, that I have been engaged in put ting up the Carver Gins for planters on Red River, and that I have seen your Gin in operation, and have examined the quality of the cotton produced by it; I consider it equal if not superior to the Carver Gins: in addition to which, I think your feeders a decided improvement, and by the side of much improved, over that produced by the comours &c.

New Orleans, March 10, 1837. In addition to the above, the Patentee will refer planters to the following gentlemen, who have either seen the Cin in operation, or have examined samples cleansed by it: Messrs. N. & J.
